

Sohini - A Brief Introduction....

Sohini Roychowdhury was born in a family of illustrious musicians, in Calcutta, India . Sohini took up training in Indian classical dancing at tender age of eight. She trained under Thankamani Kutty and Guru Venkitt, renowned & respected gurus of Bharatnatyam and Mohiniattam.

Sohini combines the best of two worlds - a classical conservative training & a modern innovative outlook. Expressional dance being her forte, she gives great importance to the aesthetics of dance and rhythm. She has further embellished these inherent attributes through her innovative forays into the realm of self-choreographed thematic dances – inspired by popular Bollywood songs, which she performs with her students on stage and television, regularly across Europe and India.
